Giovanni Bagmeijer

Full Stack Developer

PROFILE

I'm a Full Stack Developer at Bright Technology Ventures, where I work as a technical sparring partner for management and commercial teams. I design, build, and maintain digital platforms and internal intelligence systems across multiple business units. Before moving into engineering, I spent four years as a Communication Specialist at a real estate tech startup, helping scale it from early-stage to scale-up. That background shapes how I build: I don't just ship features—I build systems that create measurable business value.
